MISSION TO THE ABYSS

Teacher's Activity Guide

Science is about wondering, asking questions, exploring. Whether it takes us inside a lab or to the very depths of the ocean, science provides us with the foundation for new discoveries, new technologies and even new worlds.

Today, thanks to innovative scientific and technological advancements in areas such as deep sea exploration, we are not only gathering information that will help shape how we will live far into the future, but we are able to revisit and reconstruct centuries of history.

We're proud to sponsor this exhibit, to take you to the bottom of the sea, to a world you may never have known existed.
